

R Congreve

Waltham College. Oxford

June 4. 1853.

My dear Sir,

I was very pleased to see Prof^r Follen and sorry that it was for so very hurried a visit - He promised another, but I am leaving Oxford today and have not yet heard from him, a friend of his whom he recommended I am unfortunately. This for Mr. Follen if you see him before I do. I much enjoyed the short time I had with the Professor and passed four hours as a liberal with him and his party. I assure you I do hope that yourself remember with great pleasure yours and Mr. Gray's visit - On your own night at least a most agreeable recollection - I wish I could do you in your own country, but

Various ties, scholastic, and matrimonial no prospect keep me close at home. I do what I can, however. This week I hope to reach you through the hands of two college friends of mine. Mr. Adams and Mr. Fowler - for both of whom I entertain a very warm regard - and you encourage me to send such to you. They are going to spend their summer in America.

Let me give my very kind remembrances to Mr. Gray. And if I do not write to enough and believe me my dear Dr. Gray

Yours very sincerely

Richard Rogers

Dr. A. Gray.
